HUGHES MAKES HIS SPEECH

In Accepting Nomination Criticises President's Acts

DECLARES ALL WRONG

Ex-Jurist Says New Policies are Needed, But Neglects to Sugges Original Ideas

New York, Aug. 1—Charles E. Hughes, who resigned as an associate justice of the United States Supreme Court to become the candidate of the Republican party for President, last night was formally notified of his nomination.

The speech of notification was delivered in Carnegie Hall by United States Senator Warren G. Harding, of Ohio. In his reply, in which he announced his acceptance of the nomination, Mr. Hughes assailed President Wilson's administration generally and declared that new policies were needed, but stated only in general terms the policies he proposed to follow if elected.

Mr. Hughes criticized the Administration for the course it had pursued with reference to Mexico, maintenance of American rights during the European war, preparedness and other great questions of the day. He declared for a new policy of "firmness and consistency" toward Mexico, for "the unflinching maintenance of all American rights on land and sea," and for "adequate national defense; adequate protection on both our western and eastern coasts."

"We denounce all plots and conspiracies in the interest of any foreign nation," Mr. Hughes said. "Utterly intolerable is the use of our soil for alien intrigues. Every American must unreservedy condemn them and support every effort for their suppression."

The nominee assailed the Administration for its "direction of diplomatic intercourse from the beginning, declaring that where there should have been conspicuous strength and expertness there had been weakness and inexpertness. He cited San Domingo as an instance where appointments had gone to "deserving Democrats" and the failure to continue Ambassador Herrick at his post in Paris after the war had started as "a lamentable sacrifice for international repute."

SEEKING SELF-RULE

Power of Veto Alone to Remain With Parliament Under New Plan.

London, Aug. 1.—Home rule for the Church of England, in distinction from state control of the legislation of the Convocation of Canterbury, and yet the acknowledgement of the state's power of veto, are the chief points in the report of the committee appointed three years ago, by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York to consider problems of church reform.

The committee was appointed to consider "what changes are advisable in order to secure in the relation of church and state a public expression of the national recognition of religion."

Saturday was the pay day of sin in the double household of Edgar Foster in Chicago. While his wife—who with her two children lives in the front of the flat—was away, Foster shot and probably fatally wounded his "love mate" and killed their son, 3 years old. Foster, with the two families of which he was the parental head, occupied an eight-room flat. In the front lived his legal wife and children. In the rear lived Bertha Kubgiak, and their nameless child. Foster divided his time between the households.

Just arrived a fresh supply of Crabs Clams, and Oysters. Call or Telephone and orders will be given prompt attention. Ramell Cafe S. Royal Strast.

JEALOUSY SHOOTS THREE

Young Husband Dead, Wife Dying, Mother-in-Law Wounded

Reading, Pa., Aug. 1—Newton Buchert, 23, shot and probably fatally wounded his 19-year-old wife, shot his mother-in-law, Mrs. Maggie Hilbert, 34, and then shot and killed himself Sunday in their home in Boyertown, this county.

Mrs. Buchert, shot through the left lung, is said to be dying tonight in a hospital in this city but her mother, shot in the jaw and one arm, is less seriously wounded and will recover. The Bucherts' 2-year-old son, held in the mother's arms when she was shot, escaped uninjured.

Buchert was brooding over a trip his wife was about to take, and to which he objected. After a violent quarrel, in which Mrs. Hilbert was a spectator, Buchert ran into a bedroom and returning with a revolver, shot first his wife, his mother-in-law and then himself, evidently believing he had mortally wounded both women.

Buchert, it is said, was insanely jealous of his wife, and believed to have been temporarily demented. He died instantly after firing a single shot into his head.

BABY'S PLUNGE TO DEATH

Mother Sees Little Form Drop From Hotel Window

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 1—Falling from the third-story window of the Liberty Hotel, South Georgia avenue, yesterday morning, Dinah, the 15-months-old daughter of Benjamin Milgram, of Philadelphia, dropped 30 feet to an alley and struck upon her head. Unconscious, she was rushed to the city hospital, where she died. The baby's mother entered the room just as the little white form disappeared over the window-sill. The baby had been left alone but a few minutes.

Mrs. Milgram rushed madly out of the house and gathered the infant in her arms. Both were hurried in an automobile to the hospital. There the mother swooned. When she recovered the hospital authorities forbore telling her the truth and she was taken back to the hotel by her husband and is now in a highly-nervous condition. She had not yet been informed of the baby's death.

SHACKS AT SANATORIUM

Tuberculosis Association Seeks to Relieve Congestion at Catawba

Two temporary shacks to provide for twenty-four patients at the Catawba Sanatorium and thereby relieve to some extent the congestion due to the waiting list, which is now longer than the total capacity of the sanatorium, have been offered the management at Catawba by the Virginia Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

The building will be of temporary construction and will be occupied by patients who would otherwise have to leave Catawba at the expiration of their allotted stay. They are intended not only to give more beds for those clamoring to enter, but also to enable some cases to remain a little longer at the sanatorium.

"Catawba has always been used as an educational institution," said Captain W. W. Baker, President of the State Association, "patients are kept there a few months, and taught to care for themselves and to protect others. It has been necessary to shorten this period of stay, because of the long waiting list. In order to enable cases to remain a short time longer, we have offered to build temporary shacks.

"The present situation is pitiful. As education in the disease grows more widespread, more patients naturally wish to have proper care. Only Richmond and Danville have local provisions. It is accepted that as many beds should be provided as their are annual deaths. This would give us practically 4,000 beds in the State. We have only 300. Local provisions must be made before we can have any real relief from the present very distressing conditions. Demonstration is the modern method of teaching," said Captain Baker. "If we can prove that 24 beds will offer a trifling relief, the communities must do their own arithmetic."

SEEKS TO OUST MAYOR BROCK

Doherty Brings Proceedings Against Chief Executive

LABOR LAW IS CAUSE

Petition Says Executive of Isle of Wight Was "Openly and Shamelessly Hostile."

Richmond, Aug. 1. —Fulfilling his threat to bring removal proceedings under the ouster law against magistrates who fail, in the face of conclusive evidence of guilt, to impose the fines required by law, Commissioner James B. Doherty, of the State Department of Labor, has addressed a petition to Judge B. D. White, of the Circuit Court of Isle of Wight county, asking for the removal of L. C. Brock as Mayor of Smithfield.

The papers setting forth the charges against Mayor Brock have been placed in the hands of the Commonwealth's attorney of Isle of Wight, and a copy has been served upon Mayor Brock. Judge White will fix the date for the trial.

Commissioner Doherty accuses Mayor Brock of maintaining an "openly and shamelessly hostile" attitude and bearing to the enforcement of the laws of the Commonwealth, as evidenced by his conduct when Inspector Clinedinst, of the Labor Department, brought charges in his court against the Smithfield Light and Power Company, and the Underwood Manufacturing Company. Notwithstanding the fact that the charges against these defendants, growing out of the violation of the semimonthl pay and child-labor laws, were fully sustained. Commissioner Doherty charges, Mayor Brock was in haste to decide the cases against the complainant and dismissed the warrants.

It is further charged against Mayor Brock that he permitted bystanders to prompt witnesses, led witnesses himself with the intention of damaging the case of the Commonwealth, admitted in open court that he had threatened, before the warrants had been sworn out and before he had heard the evidence, to dismiss the warrants, and that his judicial opinion was admittedly warped, biased and prejudiced.

Apart from its immediate relation to the law enforcement program of the Labor Department, Commissioner Doherty's action is significant as the first attempt to make use of the much-discussed ouster law. It is the first attempt in years to discipline a magistrate for failure to enforce the laws of the Commonwealth. As the first exercise of the ouster law, the proceedings against Mayor Brock will be watched with interest throughout the State.

It had been known for some time that the Department of Labor was preparing to take steps against a magistrate in the eastern section of the State, where in recent months it has experienced great difficulty in securing convictions. Mayor Brock alleges that the case against the company was not proven and that Clinedinst was not present at the trial.

Three Curious Young Swains Spend A Day Picking Birdshot From Their Anatomy

Pittsburg, Aug. 1—It is not healthy tod go "snooping" around Red Raven camping grounds, on the Allegheny River in early morning hours, when the Junoesque maids, who are enjoying their summer outing there, elect to take an early frolic in the limpid waters of the old river. At least that is the experience of several young Sharpsburg swains who spent the greater part of today having birdshot picked from their anatomy. It all came about this way:

Seven young women, Sharpsburg buds, accompanied by the austere Mrs. Regina Joyce as chaperon, repaired to the river bank from their camp near Red Raven about 2 o'clock yesterday morning for a plunge. Feeling secure in the hour, the girls were garbed only in nature's lingerie. Soon they were disporting themselves with high glee in the clear cool water.

Seated quietly on the river bank, with a shotgun beside her and suspicious of every cracking twig, Mrs. Joyce kept vigil.

Suddenly from around a bend in the river came half a dozen canoes through the water toward the nymphs who, with one accord, sought deep water. But Mrs. Joyce was on guard. Warning the rollicking canoeists away twice and receiving in return a sally of jeers, she put the gun to her shoulder, yelled to the girls to get under water, and pulled both triggers.

Three of the young swains were well peppered and several others "nicked up" a bit. But there will be no complaint to the authorities.

THREATENED STRIKE

New York's Street Car Lines May Be Tied up Before Night

New York, Aug. 1—New York's vast surface system of street car lines, comprising a total mileage of 1,575, was threatened today with the most complete tie up in the city's history. The right to unionize is the one big issue involved.

Unless this right is granted the 30,000 surface men by the companies they threatened to carry the fight to elevated and subway lines.

Such action, company and city officials admitted today, would result in such a street car strike as America has never known. As it is, a tie-up of the surface lines would seriously hamper business of all kinds.

FRENCH FIRE FAST

Increased Shelling Behind German Lines Prevents Building of New Defenses

Gray, Picardy, France, Aug. 1—Two French shells to one shell by the Germans measures the gunfire on this part of the front, as observed by a correspondent during a three day stay behind the lines.

The cannonade continues throughout the night, rising to intensity during the long midsummer days, when the sunlight enables accurate direction of fire from the air observers.

Three French artillery commanders feel that they dominate the German guns here, and they owe it largely to the airmen. The German gunners must fire by maps, searching for hostile batteries by calculating probabilities, because the French still hold command of the air. No German sausage balloons, as the French call them, are able to keep the air, since they began to be burned by a new device three weeks ago. Hostile aeroplanes begun appearing in considerable numbers on Friday and Saturday, usually flying at very high altitudes, being frequently invisible from the earth. Machine gun firing heard occasionally from remote heights in the air told of air encounters.

SAVES COAT, LOSES BABY.

Paterson, N. J. Aug. 1.—Mistaking a baby for a coat thrown to him from his automobile, Herry Kennedy, of Hackensack, caught the coat and let his 1 year old son fall. The child died yesterday in St. Joseph's Hospital here.

The Kennedys were motoring through Montville, when the brakes failed to hold on a hill. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy jumped and tried to hold the machine and Mrs. Kennedy's mother threw out the coat and the baby to the father.

RUSSIANS ADVANCING

Germans Fight Desperately to Check Advance of Czar

FIRE GUSTS ARE VAIN

Berlin Reports Desperate Attacks, But Claims All Onslaughts Were Repulsed

London, Aug. 1—Wireless reports received at Rome and forwarded here today asserted that Germany is withdrawing her heavy artillery and her food and munitions depots from Kovle in the face of the Russian enveloping movement.

The same report stated that Vladimir and Volhynakey, in the same sector on the eastern front, have already been completely evacuated.

London, Aug. 1—Russian troops advancing toward Kovel have crossed the Stokhod river along the whole stretch between the Sarby-Kovel and the Kovel-Rojitche railroads, says Reuter's Petrograd correspondent in a dispatch from the Russian capital last night.

Petrograd, via London, Aug. 1—The official communication says:

"On the Stokhod our forward march continues. At certain points the enemy is employing gusts of fire.

"In the course of today's fighting Colonel Kanzeroff, a brave regimental commander and Knight of the Order of St. George, was wounded.

"In the direction of Brody the enemy bombarded with heavy artillery the town of Brody and the crossings of the River Boldurovka. On the greater part of the front desperate and sanguinary combats continue, the enemy employing utmost efforts to maintain himself on his line of defense. With this aim he is bringing up all available reinforcements from every sector, even separate battalions."

Berlin, Aug. 1—Strong Russian assaults in mass formation against the troops of General von Linsingen were repulsed with the heaviest losses to the attackers, said the section of the German official statement dealing with the eastern front. The Germans captured 1,889 Russians.

The statement says that the Russians, continuing their attacks in the sector northwest and west of Buczacz (southeastern Galicia), succeeded at a few points in penetrating General von Bothmer's first line of defense, but were driven back again.

BORED MEN TO DEATH.

New York, Aug. 1.— Sam-U-L Donniss, who never so much as killed a mosquito because he doesn't believe in the slaughter of animals, but who is said to have bored dozens of civilians to death with his arguments, entered the workhouse here for a tow-year visit today because he hailed so many strange persons on Broadway to tell them about himself.

Samuel developed a habit of stopping in front of butcher shops to harange buyers of meat. He scolded small sized strangers for wearing slaughtered shoe leather. He yowled at women with birds on their hats and when he was sentenced one reporter said he raged and stamped his rubber clad feet so much it was apparently that any hornet wandering into his cell will take in its stinger.

A moment after he had been sentenced to State's prison for five years for burglary, Albert Gleason 27 years old, cut his throat with a razor yesterday morning in the county court, Brooklyn, and was taken to the Brooklyn Hospital in a dying condition. Rev. Father Kelly, of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, who was in the courtroom, administered last rites to Gleason when the excitement caused by the deed had quieted.

Just arrived a fresh supply of Crabs Clams, and Oysters. Call or Telephone and orders will be given prompt attention. Ramell Cafe S. Royal Street.

ECHO OF EXPLOSION

Fire Breaks Out in Ruins of Buildings in Jersey City

New York, Aug. 1—Fire broke out last-night in the ruins on Black Tom Island, where the disastrous ammunition explosion of Sunday morning occurred, and half the fire department of Jersey City, aided by fire tugs from New York harbor, fought the flames which centered about the pier where large quantities of shrapnel and high explosives were stored. Exploding shells made an almost continuous cannonade.

Three officers of corporations doing business on the island were under arrest last night, and a warrant was out for a fourth. Preparations were under way at Jersey City for a joint Federal, State, county and municipal investigation to fix the blame for the disaster which killed at least three men, injured scores and caused approximately $30,000,000 property damage.

MOTHER'S SHAVE MAY KILL

Razor in Untrained Hands Slips, Severing Artery

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1—A shave, with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Cochran, handling the razor, may cost William Cochran, of Braddock, his life. Cochran wanted to go to church Sunday morning, and, although he had an old old-style razor, he never had delved into its mystery.

"I believe I could shave you," suggested his mother.

"Try it," responded Cochran.

Operations proceeded with fair success until Mrs. Cochran, over-confident, tried the razor on the back of William's neck. The blade slipped as she was making a downward stroke and cut a deep gash in the son's arm, severing an artery. Two physicians summoned say Cochran's condition is critical.

STATE FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

The 13th annual session of this organization will be held at Norfolk, August 9, 10 and 11, in the Monticello Hotel auditorium.

Quite an elaborate program for the edification of Virginia farmers has been arranged.

An attractive feature of this session is a splendid harbor trip to be given to the entire Institute, including the farmers' wives and daughters, on the 11th, by the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce. This excursion will include a trip to the Navy Yard, the famous German village, the interned German raiders and other points of interest in the Hampton Roads.

All farmers, whether members of the Institute or not, are not only invited to attend this session, but they are expected.

Low rates obtain on all railroads and tickets are good to return on August 14.

ALLIES MAKE GAINS.

London, Aug. 1.—The allies maintain unceasing pressure both on the western and eastern fronts. The British north of the Somme advanced at some points on the plateau to the north of Bazentin-le-Petit.

The British and French started a fresh combined attack on Sunday from Delville wood to the Somme and made dogged progress which brought them near the village of Maurepas, The misty weather, which has hindered the operations, has given place to clear skies, with intense heat.

The Germans are making the most determined counter-attacks and officially claim that the allies have not gained a foot of ground by Sunday's attacks.

In resisting an affront to his daughter, William Bagdanski, a saloon keeper, was shot and killed in front of his place of business, Newark, N. J., early yesterday. A man who described himself as Daniel Seratelli, 19 years old, was locked up pending an investigation of the tragedy. The police say that the prisoner has been identified by the widow and daughter of the murdered man as one of the three men who participated in the attack on Bagdanski.

MANY DEATHS IN FOREST FIRES

Canadian Town Wiped Out and Others Are Now in Ruins

184 DEATHS CAUSED

Heavy Rainfall Saves Greater Part of the Province of Ontario From Destruction

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 1—With one town completely wiped out, another almost in ruins and a score of small settlements obliterated, Premier Hearst announced last night that 184 persons lost their lives in the forest fires in Northern Ontario. Only a heavy rainfall early yesterday probably saved a great part of the province from destruction. Hundreds are homeless, and the Dominion government has taken extraordinary measures to provide for the refugees.

Where the town of Matheson once stood tonight there are only smoldering ruins and ashes. The country surrounding it is as barren as a desert. Only a few structures in the village of Cochrane remain standing. The greatest loss of life occurred at Nushka and Monteith, partly in ruins, where 98 persons were burned to death. At Matheson 35 perished.

There was no serious damage at Englehart, although one or two fires occurred. At Timmins 17 houses were burned down.

Reports received by the Abitibi Power and Paper Company, Limited, which have extensive paper mills and timber limits in the town and neighborhood of Iroquois Falls, in the section swept by bush fires Sunday, indicate that the fires in that district were checked at midnight by heavy rains.

The company's plant and stock was saved, although at Iroquois Falls twenty dwelling houses were destroyed and seventeen lives lost. The company's limits have not been affected as the fire did not pass a point west of them.

Advices to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company stated that the railways expects to get bridges repaired in the fire district by noon today, when traffic could be resumed. The relief work was reported to be well in hand.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 1—A message received by the Department of Mines and Forests, at the Parliament Buildings, states that the fires in Northern Ontario have been entirely quenched by heavy rains. All fires are out.

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 1—The hydro-transforming station at Dundas was almost completely destroyed by fire causing a short circuit early yesterday. Hamilton and all Western Ontario are without power.

THE DEUTSCHLAND

Tugboat Timmins to Carry Dragnet to Pick up Mines

Baltimore, Aug. 1—Owen Coleman, the pilot who brought the German subsea freighter Duetschland safe into port, will take her out again. Plans of the promoters call for him to pilot her down the bay before night.

Shortly after the information concerning the pilot became known the tug Timmins and the smaller launch Efco started out toward midchannel carrying a drag, apparently to pick up any mines or obstructions.

There were reports from various members of the Timmins' crew that the sailing is at hand. The revenue cutter Apache lay in the Patapsco a short distance below the Deutschland, apparently ready to see that she had fair play on her return journey.

Rumor had it that the Deutschland's sistership, the Bremen, is due along the Atlantic seaboard either today or tomorrow, but there was no definite information as to whether she will dock here or in Boston.

BET CHILD A YEAR

Beaver Falls Couple, Republicans, Make Strange Wager With Democratic Friends

Beaver Falls, Pa., Aug. 1—"That we shall have a child every year for the rest of our natural lives if Wilson is re-elected president of the United States in 1916," is the strange wager Mr. and Mrs. Henry Du Prele, Republicans, of Beaver Falls, have made with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Greene, Democrats, of New Brighton, to take effect in 1917. Mr. and Mrs. Greene have place $200 as their side of the bet.

"I hardly look for Mr. Wilson to be re-elected," Mr. Du Prele told a newspaper man today, "although should he be, my wife and I will carry out our part of the agreement."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Du Prele are young people, the husband being twenty- seven and his wife twenty-four; they already have three children, and should they lose in the wager Mr. Du Prele figures they should have at least twenty-five children before the end of their natural lives.

Mr. Du Prele declared, "there isn't anything to explain about our wager. Mr. and Mrs. Greene are just as stout Democrats as we are Republicans, and we decided to make our bet something worth while when we did bet."

BOLT FINDS GAS WELL.

Non-Producing Oiler Changes Its Fuel For Lightning.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1.—An oil well belonging to the Harbison and Walker Company, in Hays, and long classed as a non-producer, is flowing gas enough every 24 hours to add $50 to the wealth of the owners, and a bolt of lightning turned the trick Sunday

The well was brought in last winter, but the flow of oil lasted only a short time. During a big electrical storm yesterday, a bolt struck the derrick and set it on fire.

When the fire department attempted to extinguish the flames, it was found that a heavy flow of gas was coming from the well. After much difficulty this was diverted into a feed pipe, and is now going through the meter at a rate of nearly 1,500,000 feet every 24 hours.

STATE'S GAME STATUTE

Licenses Must Be Secured From the Authorities Before Indulging In Sport

Licenses for gunning in any part of the state of Virginia may be procured by Alexandria residents from the clerk of the corporation court only, in the future, according to Virginia's new law, which went into effect July 1, of this year. Heretofore, a person wishing to hunt in any particular county of the state had to secure the license from the authorities of that county. Now, however, it has all been changed, and licenses are secured from the authorities of the community of which the would-be nimrod is a resident.

Gunning licenses for the following season may be secured between the period extending from July 1, 1916, to June 30, 1917, according to the new hunting law. The season begins September 1 To shoot in any one county of the state of Virginia it costs a Virginian one dolllar, while the sum of three dollars secures a license to hunt in any part of the state. Licenses to shoot in any part of the state cost non-residents of the state ten dollars.

Clerk of the Courts Nevell S. Greenaway has issued four gunning licenses to date.

Refreshing Northerly Winds at an Early Hour This Morning Bring Relief

Both man and beast suffered yesterday and most of last night from the torrid conditions which set in last Sunday morning. During most of last night sleep with many was out of the question. The humidity of the atmosphere was depressing, and a large percentage of Alexandrians remained in the streets in front of their homes until midnight dreading to retire under prevailing conditions. At an early hour this morning the wind veered to the north, when refreshing zephyrs began to sway curtains, the mercury in the thermometer dropping perceptibly in the meantime. The temperature today has brought the much-sighed-for relief.

Canadian high pressure area, bringing down cool dry air from the Canadian Northwest swept along the whole of the northern section of the country yesterday, and afforded some relief from the heat wave, which has been the worst in 15 years. The new high pressure area brought a drop in temperature every where north of a line drawn due west from New York. Below this line its effects were felt in some districts with a change of a few degrees.

The Bermuda high pressure, which for the past 10 days has been sweeping up currents of heated water-laden air from the tropics over the whole of continental United States, showed signs yesterday of having pretty well spent itself. Likewise the high pressure area which brought relief to the Atlantic seaboard from Hudson Bay over the week-end has been dissipated.

Weather Bureau officials say that while the great central sections of the country had had the hottest period since 1901, the Atlantic seaboard hardly had been touched by real summer.

DELEGATES TO CONVENTION.

Virginia Firemen's Association Will Meet in Harrisonburg This Month.

Delegates will be elected at a meeting of the Columbia Fire Engine Company tomorrow night to attend the Virginia Firemen's Association, which meets in annual convention the latter part of August in Harrisonburg, Rockingham county. The Relief Hook and Ladder Company will elect delegates next week.

Combined efforts will be made by the fire companies in this city to send a delegation of upwards of one hundred, including the five delegates and five alternates from each company, to the convention.

SWIFT & CO. PENSION PLAN.

Two million dollars was the gift as a pension made by Swift and Company to their employes today. It is estimated that more than 30,000 men and women are eligible, in time, to come under the provisions of the fund, which becomes active August 1.

One of the striking features of the plan as outlined is that the employes do not contribute to the fund, the company furnishing absolutely all money needed to pay pensions. In this connection it is expected that Swift and Company will be called upon to pay $400,000 a year in addition to the income from the fund, in order to meet the demands.

In their efforts to work out a plan which would be fair to all employes, the company have allowed employes, who were working for other concerns absorbed by Swift and Company in the past, credit for the full length of the services with those concerns prior to their absorption.

HUGHES' SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE.

Charles Evan Hughes, Republican candidate for President of the United States, has delivered his speech of acceptance of that honor. His utterances smell of the lamp, are bulky and far from entertaining or suggestive to the average reader. It is another illustration of the moral of the old fable—truly, the mountain has labored.

The Richmond Virginian sums up this product in a few timely words. It says:

If the country was anticipating an address of statesmanlike grasp, vigorous in conception, strong in utterance, burning with lofty ideals and full of living ideas, the speech of acceptance delivered last night at Carnegie Hall, New York, by Charles Evan Hughes, Republican candidate for the presidency, will prove disappointing.

A large proportion of the address was devoted to a criticism of the administration's Mexican policy. But, further than to criticise and to say we should have been firmer, and should'n't have forced Murderer Huerta out unless we placed somebody on his job, Mr. Hughes failed to illuminate the situation.

Outside of declaring that we should adopt a policy of "firmness and consistency" with Mexico, Mr. Hughes has no solution to the problem.

We confess to a curiosity to know just what his "firmness and consistency" all means, especially in view of his repetition, almost word for word, of the Wilson program on friendly help for our distracted southern neighbor.

Mr. Hughes seems to look to the Mexican issue for success in his campaign, although he did branch off to some extent on the question of "strict accountability," saying that we should have left nothing undone to make it plain that when we said "strict accountability" we meant it.

He doesn't say how much greater victories we would have won by going to war with Germany than we have won by vigorous if peaceable interchange.

Does Mr. Hughes agree with Roosevelt that we should have made war on Germany, anyway?

We might call his attention to the fact that a long and "extinguished" line of Republican administrations had failed to provide us with the means even of self-defense, a deficiency a Democratic Congress, at the instance of a Democratic president, has taken steps to remedy. Perhaps these past administrations had lacked that "modest talent for organization" Mr. Hughes declares to have been wanting by the present Federal authority.

Mr. Hughes as a "key-noter" is a distinct failure.

Emperor Francis Joseph's condition has again become so critical that Archduke Karl, heir to the Austrian throne, has been called to the aged monarch's bedside.

CASE OF JUSTICE CRUTCHFIELD.

A Richmond paper suggests that back of the controversy now waging between the departments of the capital city of the state and the Police Court lies a fault which may be traced to the public and, it must be admitted, to the press. Years ago it became apparent that the present Police Justice possessed a certain quick rough humor, and was not averse to indulging it on the bench. From that day, the trouble began, and it has grown with the years, fostered by the public and the press which delighted in quoting, exaggerating and fabricating sallies, jokes and bits of repartee which emanated—or were supposed to have emanated—from the Police Court bench.

Quite naturally, all this had its effect on the occupant, who became imbued with the idea that the public looked to him for comedy at every session. And, as time went on, he lost his perspective, so to speak, and failed to recognize what was proper and what improper as comedy material. Therefore, the ridicule of city officers and serious men engaged in serious business.

The truth is, the Police Court is no place for comedy. Its courtroom is resorted to, for the most part, by men and women who require the majesty of the law to be impressed on them by every outward sign and symbol of dignity. It is the court closest to the people, and so should be the court to which they look with unqualified and instant respect. And it isn't too late to make it so.

The above observations are timely. It has been suggested that humorists, so-called, who manage to fight their way into Congress fail to advance themselves from the fact that they are never regarded seriously. It was so with "Sunset" Cox and others, who were successful "after-dinner" speakers, but who were not so much in demand when important or serious matters were to be considered. The late Lewis McKenzie, of Alexandria, who represented this district in the House of Representatives in 1870-1871, was of this genus. He generally discomfitted his adversaries by his humor.

Justice Crutchfield has long enjoyed a state reputation. Alexandrians who occasionally visit Richmond would look upon their trip as uninteresting were they not to attend a session of his court.

ONLY HOPE OF NEUTRAL NATIONS.

Herr Professor Von Stengel, who occupies the chair of international law in the University of Munich, has just given the world another illustration of the state of one section of the German mind. Writing to an inquirer in Holland, who wanted to be informed what neutral nations should do to be saved, Professor von Stengel says: "The nations, and especially the neutral nations, have only one means of leading a profitable existence. It is to submit to our guidance, which is superior from every point of view." And then the kindly soul continues:

"The whole course of the war up to the present has shown that we Germans have been chosen by Providence from among all the other people to march at the head of all civilized nations and lead them under our protection toward assured peace. For we not only have the power and force necessary for this mission, but but we also possess all the spiritual gifts to the highest degress, and in all creation it is we who constitute the crown of civilization."

If this really represented the viewpoint of the whole German people, there would be nothing for the allies to do, as the New York Evening Post says, "but to go on with the war until the nonsense was shelled out of German heads." The Richmond Times-Dispatch says fortunately, there are reason to believe that such folly no longer is swallowed whole. Germans are thinking now for themselves, and they are very likely to requite bitterly the leaders who have filled their minds with false philosophy and corrupted their souls with false ethics.

FALSE TALES OF ATROCITIES.

Returning European travelers or men invalidated from the allied forces bring with them gossip picked up here and there, or give details of alleged experiences at the front, which occasionally find their way into print, and which the reader must be on his guard against. A battle-scarred warrior from the British trenches recently reported that he saw two Canadian sergeants crucified, adding that this exhibition of German frightfulness caused the order to be given to take no German prisoners and give no quarter.

A Philadelphia exchange in commenting upon the above says it would be venturesome to guess what this volunteer reporter saw that could give him the impression he wished to convey of German brutality. Crucifixes are features of every wayside in France and Belgium. They are frequently affixed to the sides of buildings and are often of life-size. That such figures could be mistaken for Canadian sergeants is hard to believe but our exchange says it is willing to give the recounter the benefit of the doubt. We do not believe, however, that the Germans committed the atrocity insinuated; nor do we believe that an order was even given by a British commander, or the commander of any other army engaged in this war, to take no prisoners and give no quarter, but kill all enemies without mercy. This part of the story discredits the rest.

RUSSIA FOR LONG WAR.

Russia is preparing for a long war, with no thought that autumn will witness a close of the action. In sharp contradiction to the perfervid and ill-balanced words of the German Kaiser, in which inveterate hate and animosity of the foe are pictured in lurid words, may be set the statement of General Chouvaleff, Russian minister of war. Explaining why Germany is adding greatly to its reserve he says that "It is necessary to dispel the illusion that the war can end in the autumn. The breaking down of the enemy's forces has already begun—a fact as well known by the Germans as by the Entente Allies—but Germany's technique is so high that, in spite of her economic weakening and the lowered morale of her troops, she still has the power to resist, and we must look forward to a further struggle before the final victory."

The Baltimore American says if the Allies would agree to close the war Germany would rejoice. But the Allies show no sign of giving up. They hold to their determination to fight until the great war machine of the Germans has been destroyed. The neutral world will surely demand that the era of peace for the world shall be inaugurated, with a basis of relatively small armament, and this to be used conjointly by the powers against any country that seeks to make breach of the peace and refuses the offices of conciliation.

GLOOMY OUTLOOK.

A number of opinions of prominent citizens and officials of Germany on the probable duration of the war are at times being published, but that there is no hope for an early peace. It is believed that the present losses will be practically doubled before the war fever subsides.

The Richmond Virginian in this connection says the situation is truly pitiable. None of the involved people can give a really intelligent answer to a question as to why they are fighting.

Sir Hiram Maxim says the war started because one man had the most efficient army in the world and wanted to see what he could do with it. He is seeing.

The Germans declare that everybody knows they are ready for peace negotiations, but that they are prepared to see the thing through to the end.

It's all wrong, according to the views of the sane people of the world—this thing of killing and being killed out of sheer wantonness—and that is what it amounts to.

What could the allies gain by virtual annihilation of the central powers that would be worth the lives of the millions they must give and take to win?

And suppose unrighteously harsh peace terms are exacted by the winners in this war. Does anyone believe that it would mean anything but another war later on with all the horrors of the present multiplied?

NEWS OF THE DAY

Six men, all foreigners, were instantly killed Sunday when an auto in which they were riding was struck by a train at a crossing near Miller, Ind. A seventh occupant of the car will probably die.

A fist fight, following a quarrel, ended fatally when John Carter, a blacksmith, of Bloomfield, Conn., struck Frank McNulty so hard that death resulted from a hemorrhage of the brain. Carter, who is charged with murder, has made a written confession, the police say.

John Supper, 70 years old, a florist living near Lakewood, N. J., committed suicide Sunday by shooting himself three times. The man left a note asking that no flowers be sent by his friends, and that no services be held over his body. He also requested that he be buried in his back yard.

Premier Asquith announced in the British House of Commons yesterday that immediate action will be taken by the government relative to the execution of Capt. Charles Fryatt, of the British steamer Brussels, by the Germans. "The Fryatt crime will not go unpunished," the priemier declared. He added that whoever the criminals were they would be brought to justice.

With her 18 months old baby crawling over her body calling for "mamma," Mrs. Emma Coaxley, once wealthy, was found in her home at Pascagoula, Miss, yesterday dead from starvation. Mrs. Coaxley was in the home with her two children. They were not known to be in want until one of the children, aged 6, went to a neighbor's home saying she was hungry. This led to discovery of the mother's death.

All of Indiana Harbor society and a liberal sprinkling from adjacent territory was disporting itself in the lake front beach at Chicago Sunday, when there was a succession of squeals, screams, and a sudden rush for the shore on the part of hundreds of women and girls. Meanwhile the beach guards and a number of men were engaged in a lively struggle with four men who had appeared in the midst of the bathers clad only in glad smiles. The police encased them in barrels and took them to the station.

Because they resorted to the deception of sending each other photographs of moving-picture stars, Miss Esther Gulbranson, of Minneapolis, and William Benjamin failed to recognize each other when they met in Hagerstown, Md., according to appointment, to be married. "No wonder I did not recognize him," said Miss Gulbranson. She had received, she said, a picture of Maurice Costello, while Mr. Benjamin said the photograph he got through the mail was that of a screen beauty, famous the world over.

MAJOR LEAGUE BALL

American League

Washington and Boston again were the only Eastern clubs to win in the American League yesterday, the former swamping the Cleveland Indians by a score of 11 to 1, while the Beaneaters shut out Detroit Tigers by 6 to 0.

Washington is now only half a game behind the Tigers and should wrest fifth place from them today. If the Nationals defeat the Indians today and the victorious Red Sox put it over the Tigers again, which is very likely, Washington will only be half game in the rear of Cleveland, and ready to step in and grab fourth, place.

Yesterday's scores:
Washington, 11; Cleveland, 1.
Boston, 6; Detroit, 0.
Chicago, 4; Athletics, 3.
St. Louis, 4; New York, 3.
Schedules for today:
Washington at Cleveland.
Boston at Detroit.
Athletics at Chicago.
New York at St. Louis.

VIRGINIA NEWS

The local, or short, train on the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad collided with the yard engine in the North Pocahontas yard last night, and Engineer Harvey Trevillian, of the local train, was killed almost instantly.

Stricken suddenly while swimming in eight feet of water, with what was diagnosed by physicians as an affection of the heart, Harry G. Padgett, 23 years old of Richmond, was drowned Sunday morning in the James River about four miles from Richmond.

Malcolm, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sullivan, of near Gordonsville, in an attempt to board a Chesapeake and Ohio train at Gordonsville on Saturday night, fell beneath the train and had one foot and one arm cut off.

In a test for the United States Navy, Aviator Victor Carlstrom, accompanied by Lieut. Maxfield, United States Navy, made an average speed of 95 miles an hour in a new Curtis twin-tractor flying boat yesterday at Newport News. Carlstrom flew from Newport News out beyond the Virginia capes, circling around the warships patrolling off there, and, returning, circled over the presidential yacht Mayflower, at Old Point.

Stories from Atlanta and Macon, one alleging that the Mayor of Danville has offered Thomas Edgar Stripling his old position as chief of police, the other that the Board of Aldermen of Danville has invited him to return and assume the position are regarded as laughable in Danville. Police officers, including the chief, are chosen by the board of police commissioners. There is no vacancy in the office of chief and no likelihood of one.

Delegate Berryman Green yesterday morning was cited to appear in the Police Court in Danville, on the charge of having engaged in a fight with James H. Green, deputy clerk of the Corporation Court on last Saturday evening. He failed o appear and the case was continued until Wednesday morning. James H. Green testified that Mr. Green made an abusive remark, which resented with his fist. Little damage was done to either combatant.

Judge Waddill, of the Federal Court of the eastern district of Virginia, sitting at Norfolk, has dismissed habeas corpus proceedings brought by the parents of Richard Andrew Winfield, who enlisted in the N. G. D. C. by misrepresenting his age as over 18, and who is not yet 18, and the lad will not be discharged. The decision sustains the opinion of the judge advocate general of the army and is the first upon the question concerning which the War Department has information.

An automobile owned by Congressman C. B. Slemp, of Virginia, and operated by Miss Martha Spalding, of Hyattsville, Md., crashed into the side of the store of Max Deitz Sunday afternoon, breaking a large plate glass window and damaging the building. Miss Spalding drove into the building to avoid running down some small children in the street. Congressman Slemp, Miss Mary Porter and Prof. O. C. Bruce, of the Maryland State College of Agriculture, other occupants of the car, escaped with a shaking-up.

The will of the late Henry Fairfax, of Loudoun county, who died on July 20, has been probated in the Circuit Court of Loudoun county. After special bequests to his niece, Emily D. Ayers, to his nephew, Henry Fairfax Ayers, and to his brother, John Fairfax, the residue of the estate is left in trust to his widow for life, with full power to manage, and upon her death it is to go to his daughter, if living, otherwise to his natural heirs. Mrs. Fairfax qualified as executrix, giving unsecured bond in the amount of $200,000.

An official communication, announcing the inability of the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans of Virginia to meet in Petersburg in October as planned. It appears that the invitation from Petersburg was extended too late and that the Grand Camp had decided to meet in Norfolk before it was learned from Petersburg that the Camp could be entertained there in a manner satisfactory to local organizations. A pressing invitation will be extended the camp at the Norfolk meeting to assemble in Petersburg in 1917 and it is believed that the invitation will be accepted.

In a free fight Sunday night, in which pistols were used with deadly effect at a "Holy Roller" church, on Lick Mountain, 10 miles from Wytheville, Joseph Peoples was shot though the head and right lung and killed, and Leck Fisher was shot three times and is in a dying condition. Peoples, it is alleged, shot Fisher, but it is not known who killed Peoples, but Fred and Gordon Fisher and William Spencer, jr., are in Wytheville jail charged with the shooting. The shooting grew out of a fight between Peoples and the Fishers at the church several months ago, when Peoples was struck on the head with a rock and badly hurt.

T. P. Light, aged 25 years, of Washington, was drowned Sunday in sight of his brother-in-law, who was helpless to aid, in Smith river at Bassett, 10 miles from Martinsville. Light, who reresented a real estate firm in Washington, had been on a business trip to Wytheville, and on Sunday went to Martinsville to visit a flour mill of which he is owner. Accompanied by two relatives, he went in bathing in Smith river. Light got into deep water some distance from the bank, while the other two watched him. His brother-in-law tried to go to Light's rescue, but it is alleged, was prevented by the other man, who feared there would be a double tragedy, as neither of the men on the bank knew how to swim. The current carried Light away.

Rorer A. James, state chairman of the Democratic committee, has announced the following members of the state executive committee: First district, Nelson S. Groome, Hampton; second district, Col. J. F. West, Suffolk; third district, W. T. Reed, Richmond; fourth district, Herbert F. Hutcherson, Mecklenburg; fifth district, E. S. Reid, Chatham; sixth district, Col. James Pleasant Woods, Roanoke; seventh district, George B. Keezell, Rockingham; eighth district, Elijah White, Loudoun; ninth district, Gov. H. C. Stuart; tenth district, H. D. Flood, Appomatox; Secretary of State Central Committee, J. N. Brenaman, Richmond. Mr. James stated that headquarters would be remained in charge.

The Pythagorians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfils its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which
